GIVE THOUGHT TO GARNISHING

Summer Salade Appetizing or the Reverse, According to How This Detail is Attended To.

Salada arranged in a border of hard bulled sega, pickled beets, cold bulled carrots and silices of potato cut to fancy forms-hearts and circles and rings and triangles-are too ornate to be in good tasts. But the ungarnished dish is almost as unappetizing.

Summer garnishes should always be fresh, crisp and dainty. Watercress. fresh paraley, lettuce heart leaves, capers and small radishes, crisp and cold, all form appropriate and appetiaing garnishes for meat, fish and vegetable dishes.

Another way of garnishing is by combining two dishes. For instance, If hashed brown potatoes are to be served with a bash of lamb and poppers, place the ment hash in the center of the dish and arrange the potatoes neatly about it. Crean.ed fish can be piled in the center of the platter, creamy mashed potatoes can be arranged about it, and the whole can be browned in the oven-with a few buttered bread crumbs sprinkled over the dish-for 10 to 15 minutes. Bacon can be used as a garnish to liver or poached or fried eggs. It should be broiled, crisp and dry, and should be neatly put on the serving dish; nothing le more unsightly than greasy, limp, half-cooked bacon piled hit or miss on a dish.

PACKING THE PICNIC BASKET

Small Amount of Care in This Makes All the Difference When Supper Is Beryed.

Almost as much depends on the packing of the picnic basket us on the making of the picnic fare. For a moderate amount of money many things can be bought to make the work of packing the basket easy. Thermos bottles for cream and milk, special sandwich boxes, paper sets of dollies, napkins and tablecloths, paper plates and saucers to match and paper cups can all be bought.

A menu for a hearty cold picnic supper is as follows: Cold brolled chicken, stuffed tomatoes with lettuce and mayonnaise, current jelly, buttered rolls, loed coffee and strawberry or raspberry shortcake. Each stuffed to mate can be wrapped in a damp cloth, the chicken can be packed in a paper lined box and the rells can be carried in a box or basket. The two layers of cake for the shortcake can be carefully wrapped in a napkin. The berries, prepared with sugar, cream to whip for the shortcake and to use for the cof fee, the coffee itself and the mayounales dressing for the salad can all be carried in fruit jars; although the cream, if there is a thermos bottle, had better be carried in that.

Boda Blacult Without Milk. One quart of flour, two heaping tablespoons butter chapped up in the flour, two cups cold water, two teaspoons cream tartar sifted thoroughly with flour, one teaspoon soda, dissolved in boiling water, a little salt-When flour, cream of tartar, salt and butter are well incorporated stir the sods into the cold water and mix the dough very quickly, handling as little as may be. It should be just stiff enough to roll out. (Stiff sods bi ere always failures.) Roll out half an inch thick with a few rapid strokes, cut out, bake at once in a quick oven.

To Clean Light Woolens,

Make a mixture of cornmeal, a handful of borax and half a cake of magnesia. Mix this dry, and scrub the goods with it. To clean wool shawls, jackets, etc., sprinkle the mixture over the garment, place inside a sheet folded several times, and beat lightly. It is surprising how much the borax assists in the cleaning proces. Leave for several hours and shake out the dust and dirt in the open air. It will also clean light felt hats. Use a soft brush.

Hot Weather Desgert.

Spanish cream is a delicious dessert, it requires one and one-half pints of milk, one-half box of gelatine, onehalf cup augur, three eggs, and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Dissolve the gelatine in a little cold water, add the milk, sogar, vanilla and yolks of the eggs, which have been well besten. Put on the stove and cook two minutes, then add the well-boaten whites of the eggs, ettr well, and take from the stove. Pour into wet mold and set away to cool. Serve with whipped SECURE AND

Wring by Hand,

If you wish your table linen to look nice, do not put it through the wringer, as it makes crosses that will not come out, even if the cloth is troned when very damp. In fact, any clothen that you wish to look nice when troned will be better if they are wrung by hand.

Plea for Kitchen.

The kitchen should be the refinery, the laboratory, the factory of the home, and the pivotal point about which the activities of the home revolve. Costs should be considered thoughtfully; no scrap of food should be wasted. It all can be and should be used again in various ways. By buying staple food supplies in large quantities from 15 to 30 per cent. can be saved. Any one wishing to do so may economize in this way. Housewives must not look upon their art as mere drudgery; they must bring education, intelligence and concentrawith a club, the police interfering to tion into practice. They should learn, as manufacturers have, that the best results are to be obtained in a workcourt to compel his wife to pay him shop that is well lighted, properly ventilated and comfortably large, suit ably furnished, and sanitary in all its equipments.-Dr. Adeline G. Soule, in Lealie's.

> Explaining the Situation. Down in the Red river vall tion of Louisiana there is a planter, a veteran of the Civil war, who is noted for his profane vocabulary.

Not long since he married, and everything sailed along nicely for a few days. But the captain was called out early one morning by a negro tenant, who wanted to see him on business. As soon as the captain saw the negro, he began to curse him. His young wife, hearing the violent language, stuck her head out of the window and asked: "Is that you, Hefore the captain could answer, the negro said apologetically, "No.

Really First Sunday School.

It is often stated that Robert Raikes was the founder of the first Sunday school at Gloucester, England, in 1789. The fact is that the first Sunday school was established by Ludwig Hoecker in 1740 at Ephrata, Lancaster county, Pennsylvania. This was forty years before the work of Mr. Raikes. Mr. Hoecker's school was for the religious instruction of the children of the neighborhood. Among other methods employed he wrote Hible verses upon cards, which the children committed to memory. Later he had the cards printed. Mr. Hoeckor died in 1792, after a long and useful career.-Christian Herald.

John Sent a Proxy.

We are having such a carnival of crime in Cleveland nowadays (according to certain papers) that a lady daren't go to the door to meet the postman unless she is armed to the teeth. It is told of a Lakewood woman that she heard a slight noise, or thought she did, the other night and said to her husband:

'Oh, John! There are burglars in the house!"

"Well, see what they want," grunted John, only half awake. "But you must go down!"

"No, you go down. No gentlemanly burglar would dare strike a lady!"
